PROFILE

A second-year B.Tech student specializing in Information Science and Engineering, currently holding a CGPA of 8.93. With a strong academic background and a keen interest in technology, I am driven to apply my skills in software development, data analysis, and real-world tech projects.

I secured 96.66% in SSLC, ranked among the top 20 students in my school, and later achieved 91.86% in the Science stream (PCMC) during PU, demonstrating consistent academic dedication.

My studies have strengthened my foundation in programming, data structures, databases, and computer networks. I regularly work on coding platforms and enjoy practical projects and self-learning.

I collaborate well in team settings, communicate effectively, and solve problems with a logical, solution-oriented mindset. I seek opportunities to learn, grow, and contribute meaningfully to the tech industry while building a solid foundation for my career.
